

International Newsletter – Winter 2025 Edition

Team RML has been delightfully busy since the Frankfurt Book Fair; December offers us a little respite along with the opportunity to look back on 2025 and ahead to 2026. This season we've seen fantastic momentum across fiction and non-fiction, from romantasy and women's fiction, to neuroscience and personal development; a huge thanks to our wonderful international friends and colleagues who have made this all possible. We'd be glad to discuss any highlights further with you, whether by email, Zoom, or at Somerset House over a mulled wine. Sending you all our best for the festive season. Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays from Rachel, Nelle, Alexandra, Nick & Hermione!

THE LIBRARY OF STARS by Jordan Rose, a spellbinding, debut romantasy set in a magical library is sold in the UK, US and in eight further languages.

Dr Soumya Mukherjee's THE BRAIN GAME, a ground-breaking combination of self-help and neuroscience from one of the UK's leading neurosurgeons, is now sold in the UK, US, and in nine other languages.

Fourteen translated editions are so far confirmed for Rob Dix's SEVEN MYTHS ABOUT MONEY, which was a Sunday Times bestseller upon its UK publication earlier in the year.

The sequel to Candice Carty-Williams prize-winning, bestselling debut, QUEENIE IS WORKING ON IT is sold in the UK, US, and Germany.

LEARN LIKE A LOBSTER, a guide how to incorporate learning into our daily lives and transform your career in the process, by No. 1 Sunday Times bestsellers Helen Tupper & Sarah Ellis has sold in the UK, USA and five languages.

The debut novel from bestselling author Bryony Gordon, PEOPLE PLEASER, is sold in the UK, Lithuania, and Ukraine.
